

Committee Update

February 3, 2015

Export-Import Bank Reauthorization

D.C. "Fly-In" – February 24-25

Dear Financial Services Committee Member:

Please find attached an upcoming opportunity for you to visit Capitol Hill lawmakers in support of Export Import Bank reauthorization. The Exporters for Ex-Im Coalition is sponsoring this fly-in for those interested in making their experiences with the Export Import Bank known to Members of Congress. There is a program for attendees along with visits to Members' offices.

The New England Council also intends to conduct Hill visits specifically for those Council members attending this fly-in, and in addition to those meetings established by the Coalition.

If you register for the fly-in – or if you come to D.C. on your own – and would like to visit a member of the New England congressional delegation, please let either Peter Phipps or Taylor Pichette know and we will work with you to set up such a meeting. If you need further information, we would be glad to get that to you as well.

Thank you!

Please join us for the Exporters for Ex-Im Fly-In event on February 24 – 25, 2015, in Washington, D.C. This is a great chance to meet with members of Congress and their staff to explain the impact that the Export-Import (Ex-Im) Bank has on your business and the companies you supply with services and products.

Congress recently gave the bank a short-term extension on its charter, which expires on June 30, 2015. Given the fast-approaching deadline, our efforts to secure a long-term reauthorization for the bank are even more crucial. We need your help so that businesses, like yours, can continue to provide jobs and economic growth in communities across the country.

We encourage you to participate in the Exporters for Ex-Im Fly-In. Our goal is take our message directly to Capitol Hill and show how manufacturers, suppliers and small business owners benefit from using the Ex-Im Bank.

There is no cost to register for the Exporters for Ex-Im Fly-In. You'll just need to cover your travel and hotel costs.
